The Social Principles of the United Methodist Church Wednesdays, September 20-October 25 Flinn Hall Lounge, 5:00-7:30 pm.

Would you like to learn more about how to put your faith into action in our world? The Social Principles of the United Methodist Church provide a framework for discussion, discernment and action regarding the Natural World, Nurturing Community, Social Community, Economic Community and World Community. These Social Principles are a part of our UM Book of Discipline and include our Social Creed, a denominational statement of faith regarding our call to righteousness and justice in our world. John Wesley said "There is no religion without social religion, no holiness without social holiness." Our faith and our tradition calls us to action and good works as we love God and neighbor. The United Methodist Church has a long history of being involved with and advocating for social justice issues, believing that no area is outside of God's care and that God's love compels us.
